

BIO DATA

BRIGADIER (DR.) ANAND KUMAR TEWARI (RETD), PROFESSOR AND DIRECTOR AMITY INSTITUTE OF DEFENCE AND STRATEGIC STUDIES (AIDSS)

Brig. (Dr.) Anand Kumar Tewari (Retd) has more than 33 years of experience in educational administration, gained through university education and abounding and unique career in the Indian Army. He has flare for higher academic research, teaching and administration with an aim to nurture students and build institutions. During his career, he has held many coveted appointments, viz. Officiating Additional Director General Military Training (Army Education), Deputy Director General Military Training (Army Education) at the Army Headquarters, Chief Instructor and Principal AEC Training College & Centre, Pachmarhi, Director (Military Training), Brigadier Education & Col Education, Vice Principal Sainik Schools. Completed Ph.D. from Defence and Strategic Studies Department of Savitribai Phule Pune University, Pune as regular scholar (2013-15). The topic of the research was 'Chinese Geopolitics in the 21st Century'. The approach to research was 'Evolutionary' and 'Inside-out'. Therefore, a detailed temporal and exploratory study of evolution of China's geobody, metaphysical foundations of geopolitics and role of geo-economics was carried out to understand China's geopolitical imperatives. He being a Chinese language expert, he has better advantage in the field of Chinese Studies. His vast and deep experience as Principal of an autonomous PG College and Head of Educational services in the Indian Army gives him a great leverage in educational research and administration.