A Message from Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor

It is a moment of great pride and enthusiasm for me to share that Amity University-Rekhi Foundation Centre for Science of Happiness is organising first edition of Amity University Happiness Model United Nations 2025 on 6th – 7th February 2025 at Amity University Noida campus.

This event is not just an academic initiative; it is a profound reflection of Amity's commitment to shaping the leaders of tomorrow with the tools to address the most pressing challenges of our world. More importantly, it is a platform where a unique approach shall be explored that places happiness, well-being, and human flourishing at the center of global decision-making.

In today's world, Happiness and well-being diplomacy has evolved from being a mere negotiation of policies and power to a nuanced dialogue focused on collaboration, empathy, and sustainable peace. At the heart of this transformation, is the understanding that true and lasting peace can only be achieved when we prioritize the happiness and well-being of every individual across the globe. Amity has always placed an emphasis on nurturing leaders who go beyond traditional academic excellence.

Our mission has been to create a nurturing environment where students are empowered with the skills to think critically, lead effectively, and work collaboratively toward positive social change. The event is a natural extension of this vision, giving delegates the opportunity to test these leadership skills in a global context and explore how happiness can be a powerful tool for positive change in international diplomacy.

The Amity University Happiness Model United Nations is a powerful platform for the delegates, to engage with these global challenges from an innovative and compassionate perspective. By focusing on happiness, participants shall be stepping into roles that demand not only intellectual rigor but emotional intelligence, cultural sensitivity, and a deep sense of responsibility to others. The event will feature five committees: All India Political Parties Meet (AIPPM), United Nations General Assembly (UNGA), World Health Organization (WHO), International Press (IP), and United Nations Commission on the Status of Women (UNCSW). In these committees, participants will debate and find solutions to problems related to human rights, social justice, gender equality, and national policy. They will craft resolutions and solutions that take into account the fundamental needs of human beings—not just their survival, but their happiness, peace of mind, and emotional fulfillment.

I am sure that this event will not only provide delegates with insights into global issues and diplomatic processes but will also challenge them to think about how happiness, empathy, and collaboration can be integrated into all aspects of governance. Let us continue to build a world where happiness is recognized as a vital and collective aspiration, a world where every human being is valued, and where global diplomacy leads to outcomes that benefit all of humanity. I appreciate and congratulate the organising team of Amity University Happiness Model United Nations 2025 led by Dr. Nitin Arora and look forward to the enriching discussions and innovative ideas that will emerge from this event.

Wishing all the very best to all participants as they embark on this journey, and may the spirit of collaboration, empathy, and happiness guide them throughout, making this experience truly transformative. I wish Amity University Happiness Model United Nations 2025 a grand success!

A Message from Head, Amity University-Rekhi Foundation Centre for Science of Happiness

Under the visionary leadership of our Hon'ble Chancellor, Dr. Atul Chauhan, I warmly welcome you to the Amity University Happiness Model United Nations (AUHMUN). This event exemplifies Amity's commitment to academic excellence and Hon'ble Chancellor's mission of student success and happiness. It is a testament to shaping compassionate leaders who value holistic well-being, empathy, and social responsibility.

At the Amity University Rekhi Foundation Centre for Science of Happiness, we believe happiness is a fundamental pillar of leadership and diplomacy. Leaders of tomorrow must tackle global challenges with intellectual rigor, empathy, and a commitment to collective well-being. AUHMUN offers a unique platform to explore the intersection of diplomacy and happiness.

During the two days (6th-7th Feb 2025), happiness will guide every discussion, debate, and resolution. Our aim is to integrate empathy, emotional intelligence, and well-being into diplomacy, fostering sustainable peace and cooperation. This is more than an academic exercise—it is an opportunity to reimagine a future where governance is rooted in compassion and mutual understanding.

I encourage delegates to reflect on how your discussions and resolutions can contribute to a harmonious world. May this experience inspire you to act with compassion, creativity and always prioritize happiness in your decisions.
