

WORKSHOP ORGANISED

With a view to making the society a safer haven for children, Rachna Mishra, principal, Amity International School, organised an informative workshop for students of classes V and VI to increase their awareness about child abuse. The workshop was conducted by school counsellor Rupali Yadav. She tried to drive home the point with the help of an animated film. She talked to students about good touch and bad touch and how they could protect themselves. The children were made aware about that problem and some of them were willing to talk about their experiences. They were also told about the Children's Helpline number. The children did realise the need for remaining more vigilant and speaking up whenever they faced such complex situations.

Amity International School VKC, Lucknow workshop on 'Bad touch and Good touch'.

Published on: September 20, 2018 – The Pioneer

Amity International School VKC, Lucknow organized a workshop to make the children aware their safety and security at every place.