Nathalia is a London based debutant feature film director of Footprints on Water. She won the Best Debut award at New York Indian Film festival, best award on direction, celebrating stories theme at UKAFF, Best Debut at Indo-German Week, Best Debut Special Jury award at Ottawa Indian Film Festival & best debut and best director at Indian Film Festival of Cincinnati. Between the British and Indian film industries, she has experience working as an associate director/ 1st AD and has broadcast credits for her previous short-films and commercials. Nathalia is also a Film Practitioner at a Film School in London and has curated many filmmaking courses such as the BFI Film Academy & Kick-starters Programme. Her previous short film, Lehenga, was nominated for the 'Best of British' award at the BAFTA qualifying 'Iris Prize' Award in Cardiff.

Saumitra Singh is a creative and visionary Director who has made over 10 projects in over 7 years of his remarkable career with the Indian Film Industry.

From an early age, Saumitra knew where his passion lay, hence after graduating from Amity University, he worked towards his goal of becoming an accomplished film-maker. Saumitra had the opportunity to work with Oscar-winning British filmmaker Asif Kapadia in 2019 for organising an also assisted prominent filmmaker Zaid Ali Khan in organising the prestigious Sundance Film Forward Festival in Delhi.

Over the years he has directed films like the Wallet, House of Lies, Kalabai from Byculla, Painful Pride and Taxi No. 24 with cinema veterans like Naseeruddin Shah, Navni Parihar, Sanjay Kapoor, Mahesh Manjrekar, Pallavi Joshi, Rituraj K Singh.

In this short period of time, Saumitra has been presented with various accolades for his immeasurable contributions to the cinema industry. He won the Dadasaheb Phalke award for the "Best Aspiring Director" I 019-20 & the "Special Mention 2019-20" at Global Cinema Festival for his short film Wallet at the age of 28. He went on to win over 80 more awards for this project.

He had attended the Russian Film Festival in India in 2022, and now aspires to take his art to the global platform. He believes that he is just getting started, and wants to create such stories that will leave a mark on not just the Indian Film Industry but on Cinema industries across the globe.

Report:

Centre of Excellence for Innovation in Education, School of Engineering and Technology, and Academic Staff College, Amity University Haryana, joined forces to launch the Cyber Security and Coders Club. As part of this initiative, an expert talk was held on September 4, 2023, with the theme "Strengthening Online Safety: Nurturing Cyber security Awareness among the Youth." The featured speaker was Col Inderjeet Singh, Chief Cyber Officer at Vara Technology Pvt Ltd, a renowned expert in the cyber security field

The primary objective of this talk was to raise awareness among young individuals about the critical importance of online safety and to instill a robust sense of cyber security consciousness.

During the talk, Col Inderjeet Singh provided invaluable insights and guidance on implementing measures to ensure a secure online experience for the younger generation. The talk was designed to empower participants with the knowledge and tools necessary to navigate the digital world securely.

Key highlights of the talk included discussions on the rising cybercrime rates in Delhi, with complaints increasing by 200% in 2023. Various forms of cybercrimes were addressed, including credit card and financial data theft, medical data breaches, prescription and insurance fraud, identity theft, and the exploitation of computer resources for activities like crypto mining and spamming.

The talk also shed light on the thriving fake profile marketplaces online, emphasizing the importance of being cautious about digital footprints left behind on social media platforms. It was noted that even seemingly ephemeral content may have a lasting presence online.

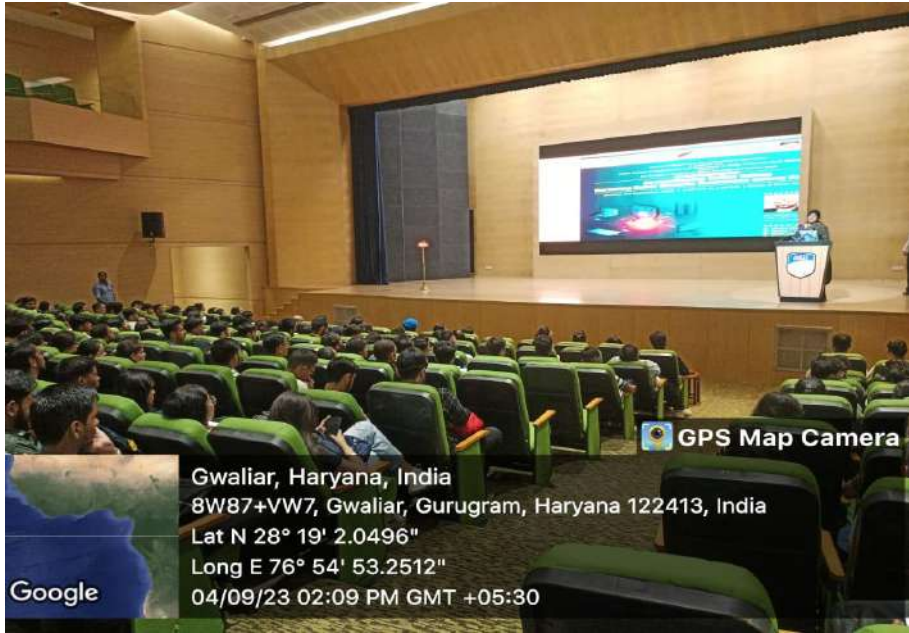

The popularity of social media platforms was highlighted, with staggering numbers of users on platforms like Facebook, YouTube, WhatsApp, Instagram, TikTok, and more. The significance of online privacy and security in the age of social media was emphasized.

The discussion covered advanced cybercrimes, including the use of shortened or obfuscated links to deliver malware. Social engineering tactics employed by cybercriminals to gain access to sensitive information, such as through impersonating banks, credit card companies, medical providers, or government agencies, were also addressed.

Phone scams, including the grandparent scam and tech support fraud, were discussed, with an emphasis on verifying the legitimacy of incoming calls and never sharing sensitive information without proper verification.

The talk stressed the importance of strong password management practices, including the use of password managers to securely store and auto fill login credentials. Internet privacy and best practices for mobile security hygiene were also highlighted.

Overall, the expert talk served as a valuable resource for enhancing cyber security awareness among the youth and equipping them with the knowledge needed to protect themselves in the digital world.

Report:

The Haryana Police, recognizing the importance of women's safety and has taken a proactive step by developing a dedicated safety app. In a collaborative effort to ensure the safety and well-being of women, representatives from the Haryana Police visited Amity University Haryana on 28 Sep 2023 to enlightening and empowering female students about the significance of the safety app-112 India

During the session, the Haryana Police team provided comprehensive guidance on the '112 India' app, which boasts eight essential features and functionalities. They emphasized the app's role as enhancing the personal safety of female students. Additionally, the team offered hands-on assistance to install the app on the students' mobile devices, ensuring they were well-equipped with this resource.

The '112 India' app offers a diverse range of features, including:

- Emergency Call: Quick access to dial the emergency number 112 for immediate assistance.
- Location Services: Sharing the user's location with emergency services for faster response.
- Text Messaging: Sending text messages to emergency services during distress calls.
- Safety Tips: Providing valuable safety tips and guidance.
- SOS Button: Immediate alert capability when the SOS button is pressed.
- Community Alerts: Receiving alerts and notifications about emergencies in the area.
- Language Support: Multilingual support to cater to various users.
- Contact Sharing: Sharing emergency contacts and medical information with responders.

This proactive engagement between the Haryana Police and the students of Amity University Haryana reflects a shared commitment to creating a safer and more secure environment for women. It highlights the importance of collaborative efforts in ensuring the well-being of all members of society."

Dy DSW, ProfSanjna Vij at the end summarized by explaining to the female students the immense benefits of having this safety app on their mobile devices. Dr Vij's mentoring provided a meaningful perspective on how this resource contributes to the safety and well-being of our students. She Thanked to Maj Gen Dhull for this initiative.

3.1 General Introduction of the Event : Team Ek Awaaz performed a play named “Mard Bhi” on 5th February showcasing the atrocities faced by men in this society.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event : The concept of the story was based on the atrocities and discrimination faced by men in our society. Through our act we showed some of the very common and severe cruelties faced by men all over the country. Our nukkad natak left a powerful impression on the audience. It sparked conversation about the often-overlooked difficulties faced by men in our society. Our act was appreciated for the topic we picked and the message we delivered through our act which was “Men Too”.

“Mard bhi hai insaan, rakhte haq ye bhi hai”

14. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

14.1 General Introduction of the Event

Forensic nursing is the application of nursing globally when health and legal arrangements meet. It is one of the most recent, but rapidly growing, specialty areas in nursing. Virginia Lynch, the mother of forensic nursing, discovered her passion for the field when she visited a crime lab in 1982. According to her, evidence such as clothing, specimens, and records have so much importance but was often lost to the authorities when the victim is being treated in a health care facility.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

- Identify forensic nursing as an emerging specialty in healthcare and nursing practice.
- Explore the history and scope of forensic nursing practice
- Identify forensic team, role and responsibilities of forensic nurse in total care of
- victim of violence and in preservation of evidence

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The session commenced with the gracious welcoming of speakers, dignitaries, and participants by Dr. Vishwas, Associate Professor at Amity College of Nursing. Following this, an opening note was delivered by Prof. Dr. Sanjna Vij, Deputy Director of the Academic Staff College, accompanied by a warm welcome from Prof. (Dr.) Anu Gauba, Principal of ACON. The gathering was then honored w esteemed Pro-Vice Chancellor, Prof. (Dr.) Vikas Madhukar. Subsequently, the floo Dr. Seema Rani, who eloquently delved into the topic "Introduction to Forensic N

17.1 General Introduction of the Event

The interactive session Relationship Management through the art of mastering self was organized by AIBAS on 5th March 2024 as part of the department's observance and celebration of Women's Day, this year.

17.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

The workshop was organized with primary aim to sensitize students and faculty members on the importance of building health relationships through various self-mastering techniques. In times when people across all age groups are struggling with mental health problems on account of disturbed interpersonal relationships, the present session holds relevance as it emphasized on looking inward and finding deeper connection with self, significant others and also our environment.

17.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

The session started with an insightful speech by Registrar, AUH Mr. Ravi Manuja in which he urged all members in the audience to understand the significance of the topic of this session. He emphasized on the need to invest quality time to foster healthy relationships in family for a healthy personal as well as professional life. The Head of the Department Dr Priyanka Verma also gave a warm welcome to the guest resource person, dignitaries, faculty, and students present for the session. The interactive session further proceeded with a very engaging interactive presentation on the topic by the resource person Dr Suman Behmani. Dr Behmani explained how important it is to mend relationships by working on relationship with self and even with tangible and intangible experiences in the environment. By receiving live queries and responses from the audience, she managed to highlight how healthy relationships through understanding our why behind pursuing a relationship, bring out the best in us in all aspects of life and also enable us to be more productive in work and career. The session was concluded by a brief address from the accompanying guest speaker Dr Jeetendra Kumar- eminent scientist in field of brain studies. Dr Kumar enthralled the audience by introducing it to the concept of mastering our brain through brain lateralization activities. Both the guests were facilitated by Registrar and Deputy DSW, HOD & faculties of AIBAS. The event was compered by Bsc 2nd Semester student Ms Vaishnavi Dikshit. Vote of Thanks was delivered by Event Coordinator Dr Fouzia .A. Shaikh

17.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

- The attendees learnt the recipe of mastering self through experiencing self awareness, self-discipline and awareness.
- The participants learnt to identify triggers that become barriers in their relationships.
- The psychology students were familiarized with case studies and counselling tips for helping clients manage disturbed relationships.

17.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests:

AIBAS looks forward to inviting Dr Suman Behmani again so that department can effectively utilize her rich counselling expertise in training AIBAS students in psychological and psychotherapy techniques for relationship management. AIBAS plans to host a hands-on workshop with Dr Jeetendra Kumar in helping psychology students explore new domains in psychology like Third Eye Activation, NLP, etc.

2. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

a) General Introduction of the Event

Amity School of Business organised a “TURN UR THE PINK – B AWARENESS SESSION, for the students of Amity University

 Registrar
 Amity University Haryana
 Manesar Gurgaon-122413

b) Objectives of the Event:

1. Increase understanding: Educate participants about breast cancer, its risk factors, signs, and symptoms to enhance awareness and early detection.
2. Encourage screening: Motivate individuals to undergo regular breast cancer screenings such as mammograms for early detection and timely intervention.
3. Promote self-care: Empower participants with knowledge on self-examination techniques and healthy lifestyle practices to reduce their risk of developing breast cancer.
4. Provide support: Offer a platform for participants to share experiences, seek guidance, and access resources for coping with breast cancer diagnosis or supporting affected loved ones.
5. Raise advocacy: Inspire attendees to become advocates for breast health education, screening initiatives, and support services within their communities.

c) Brief about the event:

Increase understanding:

Educating participants about breast cancer involves providing comprehensive information about its risk factors, signs, and symptoms. Risk factors may include age, family history, genetic mutations (such as BRCA1 and BRCA2), hormonal factors, lifestyle choices (like diet, alcohol consumption, and smoking), and environmental factors. Symptoms of breast cancer can vary but commonly include a lump in the breast, changes in breast size or shape, nipple discharge, and skin changes on or around the breast.

Enhancing awareness equips individuals with knowledge to recognize potential indicators of breast cancer, prompting them to seek medical attention for further evaluation. Early detection is crucial as it improves treatment outcomes and survival rates.

Encourage screening:

Regular breast cancer screenings, such as mammograms, are vital for early detection. Mammograms can detect breast cancer before symptoms appear, increasing the likelihood of successful treatment.

Emphasizing the importance of screening during the session encourages participants to prioritize their breast health and schedule regular screenings as recommended by healthcare professionals. It also addresses any apprehensions or misconceptions individuals may have about the screening process.

Promote self-care:

Empowering participants with knowledge on self-examination techniques enables them to take an active role in their breast health. Teaching breast self-exam (BSE) methods empowers individuals to monitor changes in their breasts regularly.

Promoting healthy lifestyle practices, such as maintaining a balanced diet, engaging in regular physical activity, limiting alcohol intake, and avoiding tobacco use, reduces the risk of developing breast cancer. These behaviors contribute to overall well-being and help individuals adopt habits that support breast health.

Provide support:

Breast cancer diagnosis can be emotionally and physically challenging for individuals and their loved ones. Providing a supportive environment within the session allows participants to share experiences, express concerns, and seek guidance.

Access to resources related to coping with breast cancer diagnosis or supporting affected loved ones, such as support groups, counseling services, and educational materials, helps participants navigate their journey with breast cancer and access the assistance they need.

Raise advocacy:

Inspiring attendees to become advocates for breast health education, screening initiatives, and support services within their communities amplifies efforts to raise awareness and improve access to resources.

Advocacy efforts may involve organizing community events, participating in fundraising activities for breast cancer research and support organizations, and engaging policymakers to prioritize breast health initiatives.

By fostering a culture of advocacy, the session aims to mobilize individuals to drive positive change, reduce stigma surrounding breast cancer, and support initiatives aimed at prevention, early detection, and treatment.

The students could learn some of the key features of the awareness session as noted below:

1. Comprehensive Information: The session provides detailed information about breast cancer, covering its risk factors, signs, and symptoms. This ensures that students have a thorough understanding of the disease and its potential impact.
2. Early Detection Emphasis: Students are educated about the importance of early detection through regular screenings such as mammograms. Understanding the significance of early detection empowers them to prioritize their health and take proactive steps for early intervention if needed.
3. Self-Care Techniques: The session teaches students self-examination techniques, such as breast self-exams (BSE), enabling them to monitor their breast health regularly. Additionally, promoting healthy lifestyle practices encourages students to adopt behaviors that reduce their risk of developing breast cancer.
4. Supportive Environment: Recognizing the emotional and physical challenges associated with breast cancer, the session creates a supportive space for students to share experiences, express concerns, and seek guidance. Access to resources for coping with a diagnosis or supporting affected loved ones is also provided.
5. Advocacy and Community Engagement: Students are encouraged to become advocates for breast health education, screening initiatives, and support services within their communities. Through organizing events, participating in fundraising activities, and engaging policymakers, students play an active role in driving positive change and reducing the stigma surrounding breast cancer.

The Awareness Session was conducted by Dr . S Vidhya, Dr. Monika Arora and Dr Bushra

34. Outcome related to Students Learning &amp; Grooming
The main aim of the cultural event was to celebrate Women's Day at ABS and honor women's achievements, contributions and progress. It also aimed to raise awareness about gender equality, empower women and foster a more inclusive and supportive community.	Tangible outcomes: Increased Attendance of students at the event. Intangible outcomes: A positive shift in attitudes towards gender equality. Participants felt inspired and empowered, leading to increased confidence.	The event achieved significant outcomes for students, promoting increased awareness of gender issues, fostering skill development, and providing a platform for cultural appreciation. Female students gained empowerment and inspiration by sharing experiences, while networking sessions and mentorship opportunities contributed to students' grooming and career development. The event served as a multifaceted educational experience, nurturing a more informed, empathetic, and inclusive college community.		An intangible outcome is the cultivation of a more inclusive mindset among attendees. Through interactive discussions and exposure to diverse perspectives, students develop a heightened awareness of gender-related issues, fostering a nuanced understanding of equality. This intangible outcome contributes to the learning experience by encouraging students to challenge stereotypes and biases, ultimately grooming them as open-minded individuals capable of promoting inclusivity in various aspects of their lives.

d) General Introduction of the Event

Amity Business School organised a Cultural Event on Women's Day.

e) Objectives of the Event

1. Empower women through active participation.
2. Challenge stereotypes with discussions and performances.
3. Cultivate a positive and celebratory atmosphere.
4. Foster inclusivity by showcasing diverse talents.
5. Encourage participation irrespective of gender norms.

Brief about the event:

The Women's Day cultural event at our college started with an engaging introduction speech that set the tone for a day of celebration and reflection. The speech highlighted the historical significance of Women's Day and underscored the importance of acknowledging and honouring the achievements of women across various fields. This served as a foundation for the event's overarching theme: celebrating diversity and empowering women.

Following the introduction, the stage came alive with dynamic dancing performances that exuded energy and enthusiasm. The choreography was a vibrant blend of traditional and contemporary styles, celebrating the strength, resilience, and cultural richness of women. The dance performances captivated the audience, creating an uplifting atmosphere that resonated with the spirit of Women's Day.

The cultural extravaganza continued with soul-stirring singing performances, featuring a range of genres that conveyed powerful narratives and emotions related to the female experience. The musical acts provided a melodic and thought-provoking interlude, offering a different dimension to the celebration. Subsequently, students took centre stage to share their thoughts on their ideal women, fostering a meaningful dialogue on diverse perceptions of femininity and inspiration.

A highlight of the event was a dazzling fashion show that celebrated individuality and style, emphasizing that there is no singular definition of beauty or elegance. The runway showcased a fusion of cultural and contemporary fashion, reflecting the diverse tastes and expressions of women. Moreover, teachers, breaking away from their conventional roles, stepped into the spotlight to showcase their talents, adding a delightful surprise to the event and reinforcing the sense of community and shared celebration.

The Women's Day cultural event concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks expressing gratitude to Pro Vice Chancellor Sir, all the faculty, staff, participants, organizers, and attendees for their collective efforts in making the event a resounding success. The inclusive nature of the celebration, the diversity of talents showcased, and the meaningful discussions generated throughout the day made it clear that the event had achieved its objectives. Indeed, it was a memorable and successful occasion that left a lasting impact, fostering a sense of unity and empowerment within the college community.

Students review for the Event are as follows:

- Good evening, I Rishita kalucha from BBA (Banking and Finance) 2nd year. Today I attended the event which was for women's day celebration and that event went to was super exciting! There were amazing dances and a cool fashion show. People talked about famous women who've done awesome things. It felt like everyone was together, cheering each other on. I got to see how different and strong women can be. I especially liked when they talked about everyday heroines and had powerful speeches. It was a really fun and inspiring time that made me feel proud to be a woman.

22. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

22.1 General Introduction of the Event: On March 7th, 2024, The Amity School of Fashion Design & Technology celebrated International Women’s Day with an enthralling event titled “Unveiling Elegance.” This event was a tribute to women’s fashion icons and aimed to showcase the creativity of the students in the field of fashion. Inspired by their favourite female icon, students presented an array of stunning costumes through intricate mood boards and fashion illustrations. Those innovative costumes were self-constructed & worn by the students of ASFDT. The event not only highlighted the students’ artistic talents but also paid homage to the timeless elegance and innovation of women in the fashion industry. It served as a platform for budding designers to express their admiration for iconic women and explore the nuances of fashion design. The sheet work & models were displayed in the D Block connector & presented in front of visitors. celebrating Women’s Day through creating costumes based on favourite women icons provides a meaningful and engaging way for students to explore gender equality, diversity, and women’s empowerment while developing a range of academic, creative, and social skills. Overall, Unveiling Elegance was a remarkable celebration of creativity, inspiration, and empowerment in the realm of fashion.

22.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event:

- To recognize and honour the achievements, contributions, and struggles of women in various fields, & Fashion Industry.
- To celebrate the diversity, resilience, and strength of women around the world and their contributions to society, culture, and history.

- To enhance & strengthen creativity skills of the students by practicing research & costume illustrations.
- To recognise the importance of research while designing Costumes for specific time periods.

22.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers: NA

22.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees:

- Students understand that Periodic women icons throughout history have often sacrificed personal comfort, safety, and sometimes even their lives in pursuit of their ideals and goals. They have challenged societal norms, fought for women's rights, and paved the way for future generations. Periodic fashion icons often become trendsetters by consistently embodying signature styles that resonate with their era. They establish themselves as influential figures through their unique fashion choices, which may include specific garments, colours, accessories, or hairstyles.
- Students recognise the importance of Research as it is crucial when designing costumes for period eras because it ensures historical accuracy of a specific time. Costume designers can accurately depict the characters and setting of the era.

On March 7th, Amity School of Liberal Arts organized a significant event in honor of International Women's Day. A thought-provoking panel discussion titled "वैदेही: Women for the Nation" was convened, welcoming esteemed scholars from diverse disciplines such as Art, Language, and Law. The discourse centered on advocating for the holistic development of women, with unanimous agreement among participants that women are actively contributing to the nation's progress alongside men. This panel discussion was conducted by Shiv Swaroop Jha Hod Commerce College, Amity University. Concurrently, the event marked the release of Dr. Girija Suru's book, a notable addition to the literary landscape, which was ceremonially unveiled by the Vice Chancellor.

The gathering witnessed the presence of numerous faculty members and students, underscoring the collective commitment of the university community towards fostering gender equality and empowerment.

28.1 General Introduction of the Event

Community engagement activities refer to initiatives designed to involve and connect community members in various social, cultural, or environmental endeavors. These activities aim to promote active participation, collaboration, and empowerment within communities. Overall, community engagement activities play a vital role in building strong, resilient communities by promoting communication, cooperation, and a sense of belonging among its members.

28.2 Objectives of the Event

- To build community relationships
- To address community needs, and social responsibility
- To make kids of Primary school aware of health and wellbeing.

28.3 Brief about the visit

The team members were greeted and introduced to begin with the event. In order to make the children feel at ease and encompassed, the team began with an icebreaker activity. Their daily lives and health-conscious practices served as the basis for the conversation themes. They were instructed on maintaining their personal hygiene, maintaining the cleanliness of the surrounding places, etc. Pupils were urged to submit their personal narratives, insights, and expertise.

31.1 General Introduction of the Event

31.2 On March 19, 2024, marked as the Social Work Day, a group consisting of 33 postgraduate students and accompanied by Dr. Indu Yadav and Dr. Shailesh from Amity Institute of Behavioral and Allied Sciences, participated in an outreach programme at an Anganwadi located in the village of Haryana, specifically known as Baghanki.

31.3 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

The primary objective of the program was to provide education to children and women on mental health, importance of healthy nutrition for good health and learning outcomes in children as well as educate them on the notion of safe and unsafe touch. In addition, several activities were conducted with the children, followed by the distribution of food and beverages in conclusion.

31.4 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Upon arrival at 11 am, the women and kids were greeted at the Anganwadi by Dr. Indu and Dr. Shailesh. The purpose of this visit was then introduced to all the attendees present. Initially, there were very few women and children present. However, Dr. Indu noticed this and went outside of the Anganwadi to invite more individuals for the discussion so that they too could gain insights and information on the topic. Dr. Shailesh extended gratitude to the head of the local Anganwadi, a publicly operated facility dedicated to the wellbeing of infants and mothers. He expressed appreciation for her efforts in improving the quality of life in the village. On being informed that low hemoglobin is one of the common yet major health concerns of the infants and mothers, Dr. Shailesh in his address to the mothers, informed all the attendees present about the early noticeable signs and symptoms of low hemoglobin, specifications of diet and importance of medicinal supplements in improving hemoglobin levels. Dr. Indu guided the gathering upon women and child mental health. She started the discussion from the topic of mental health in which she defined mental health by elucidating its encompassing nature of emotional, psychological, and social well-being. She also addressed the unique challenges that women and children may face in relation to mental health. In her discussion, she highlighted how women may experience mental health concerns differently due to hormonal fluctuations, societal pressures, and potential exposure to gender-based violence. During the interactive session, she also addressed the topic of early marriage and issues related to adjustment, which according to many participants, have an impact on mental health. Dr. Indu also provided an enriching insight about learning disabilities in children and about good positive parenting and its impact on the children's learning outcomes and behavior.

In the final segment, MA Applied Psychology student Ms Poorva Grover specific mothers in attendance. She proceeded to explain the concept of "good touch" and manner that would be easily comprehended by the mothers. The segment emphasized on the importance of effective communication for parents and the need to create safe, open non-judgmental environment at home for younger children to easily communicate incidents of bad-touch experiences. Being mindful of the fact that children interpret information differently from adults, Ms Poorva tailored her approach to elucidate the same concepts to the young attendees by using engaging and simplified examples.

‘Take Homes’ for the Attendees

- Importance of good nutrition, hygiene practices for better physical health and immunity.
- Importance of good mental health of mothers & children.
- Need for support system and cooperative climate for good mental health of children and caregivers.
- Awareness about learning disabilities and need for positive parenting for better learning outcomes.
- Awareness about good-touch & bad-touch distinction.

34. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

34.1 General Introduction of the Event

ASFDT organised an event 'Blossoming Futures' on Navaratri. The event was organized on 16th April'2024 to celebrate the girl child. "Blossoming Futures" symbolized a collective commitment to nurturing the potential of every girl and creating a world where they can thrive, free from discrimination and inequality. The parents were sensitized about the importance of the girl child, that we should not only recognize their inherent value but also reaffirm our responsibility to create inclusive and equitable societies where every girl can fulfil her dreams and aspirations. The students of ASFDT played games with the children and distributed gifts amongst them. It was an enjoyable experience for all the participants & Student coordinators.

37. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

37.1 General Introduction of the Event :

At the Amity Stem Cell Institute (ASCI), in addition to providing the students with information on the latest advancement in the field of biomedical sciences, we also emphasize on expert talks as those could be an inspirational source for students to become more involved in research, and this could help them motivate them to decide their career path in the direction of research. As part of the academic activities, we invited experts from either India or abroad (online mode) to deliver talks/invited lectures so that our students can obtain state-of-the-art knowledge in the field of molecular biology and Stem Cell Technologies.

37.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event :

- Facilitate knowledge through invited experts from reputed institutes or laboratories in India/abroad
- Promote knowledge exchange and mentorship opportunities
- Inspire and motivate current students by facilitating an interaction with the invited speakers
- The invited speakers can provide career guidance and professional development insights as well

37.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers : Dr Tejveer delivered a talk on cervical cancer which is a prominent cancer among females. The human papilloma virus (HPV) 16 and 18 are associated with it. He presented his work on HPV and demonstrate how different molecular cues and regulatory signals are involved in driving the mechanism of carcinogenesis of cervicla cancer. He also demonstrated how natural products could be used to target cervical cancer.

37.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees : Cervical cancer need more research but at the same time awareness among womens in terms of effective screening

37.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests : To develop potential collaboration with Dr Tejveer Singh's lab

37.6 Budget of the Event (Budget Sanctioned, Total Expenditure & Revenue Generated): N/A

40. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event : The Health Camp at Amity University Haryana was conducted as a part of Implementation of SEG project titled "Implementation of Community Based Participatory Research Using Interdisciplinary Approach to Provide Healthcare Solution for Women in Rural Haryana" funded by Ministry of Education under the Unnat Bharat Abhiyan 2.0.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event: As per the project objective, health record of women residing in nearby villages will be studied and will be analysed to recommend corrective actions. The data is recorded using a mobile App developed by students of B Tech CSE, Mr. Hammad and Mr. Sujan Mali under the guidance of Prof. Satish Sardana, Dr Shweta Sinha, Dr Asim Kr. Mishra and Dr Subhra Das. The students of B Pharma- Mr. Bishal Gupta and Ms. Urja Sharma under the supervision of Prof. Sardana, Dr Dilip Kumar and Dr Asim Kumar collected the healthcare data (BP, Heart rate, SPO2, Height, weight, vision test, skin pigmentation checks) of 34 people comprising of students, women housekeeping staffs and male staffs. Dr Dilip counselled the women & staff members seeing the record for necessary dietary requirements. Prof. Sardana guided the students and faculty members during the health camp and counselled the women and staffs who came for the checkup.

The data will be further analysed using a software that the CS students will develop in collaboration with the AIP students.
