3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

3.1 General Introduction of the Event

An insightful Training session on CMIE Databases was conducted in A Block Auditorium organised by ABS in association with Central Library, AUH. It was organised for the students of ABS and AESM under the guidance of ABS Faculties. The guest, Mr. Rajeev Ranjan discussed the application of databases with the distinguished set of students which are practiced in CMIE, data relevant to business dealings, profits, economic conditions, decision making important for sustaining in the business world.

3.2 Inspiration & Objectives of the Event

The objective of the training session was to analyze the datasets available of an organization and extract information from it. Through this to foster career growth by making the best use of it with a unique opportunity to gain valuable insights into economic research and analysis, explore the extensive resources offered by CMIE, and understand the pivotal role this organization plays in shaping our understanding of India's economic landscape. Mr. Ranjan's wealth of knowledge and experience makes this training session a truly enriching experience for all attendees. Students can gain information on the impact of effective utilisation of databases on business and society, and its role in driving economic growth. It serves as a platform for students to showcase their research, analytical, and communication skills. Ultimately, the training session aims to foster a deeper understanding of practicing extraction of databases and its role in shaping the business landscape while developing valuable decisions for future activities of the organisation.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Mr. Rajeev Ranjan discussed the various aspects how the data of the companies can be used effectively by the students for their placements and research. Also, the hands-on prowess is also discussed and explained for the effective search mechanism

3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

Mr. Rajeev Ranjan provided valuable insights into leveraging company data for students' placements and research, with a focus on hands-on practical skills for effective data search mechanisms. This is a commendable approach, as practical experience is crucial in the field of data analysis and research. The keypoints discussed

Effective Use of Company Data: Students can benefit from understanding how to utilize company data for their placements and research. This could involve accessing publicly available data, utilizing APIs, or forming partnerships with companies for access to specific datasets.

Companies often have a wealth of information that can be used for various purposes, including market research, trend analysis, and identifying areas for improvement.

Effective Search Mechanism: Discussing and explaining effective search mechanisms implies teaching students how to efficiently search for and retrieve relevant data. This could include advanced search techniques, using databases, and understanding how to filter and refine search results.

Prowess in Data Handling: Mention of prowess in data handling suggests a focus on developing expertise in managing and manipulating data. This is a fundamental skill for anyone working with data, especially in the context of research and placements.

Integration with Placement Process: Connecting the use of data to the placement process implies that students can use their data analysis skills to enhance their job search. For example, they might analyze industry trends, identify in-demand skills, or tailor their resumes based on data-driven insights.

3.5 Future plan for utilizing the contacts developed with the Invited Guests

More detailed session can be planned for research scholar and interested students of ABS and AESM

The main aim of the industrial visit was to understand and study how the production and planning works in an automobile industry, its operations and activities. Production and planning process, an insight into Maruti Plant, safety measures taken, organisation and factory lay out. Further, the students through the industrial visit would gain an insight regarding internal working of an industry which they cannot experience by sitting in the class rooms. In addition to this it is expected that the Interaction between University and Industry would facilitate better education and research as practiced elsewhere in advanced countries.	A brick-and-mortar type of learning can offer only limited knowledge to students. Combining industrial visits and production tours with classroom teaching can fill the learning gap. Tangible outcomes: Increased understanding of automotive manufacturing processes, such as assembly line operations, quality control procedures, and supply chain management. Acquisition of specific technical knowledge about automobile components, materials, and technologies used in production. Improved awareness of safety protocols and workplace regulations within a manufacturing environment. Development of practical skills related to troubleshooting, problem-solving, and teamwork through hands-on experiences during the visit.	Students will be able to combine theoretical knowledge with practical experiences and use this additional knowledge to build their skills.	It gives first-hand experience of the work atmosphere in an industry. Students witnessed live events and activities in a business space through industrial visits. It improves technical know-how. Students get to observe the live working mechanisms of machinery and equipment. Intangible outcomes: Enhanced motivation and inspiration among students by witnessing real-world applications of theoretical concepts learned in the classroom. Strengthened interpersonal relationships and teamwork skills through shared experiences and discussions during the visit. Increased confidence and self-efficacy as students gain exposure to a professional work environment and interact with industry professionals. Cultivation of a deeper appreciation for the complexity and importance of the automotive industry in the economy and society. Formation of long-lasting memories and positive impressions that may influence career aspirations or future decision-making related to education and employment.

b) Objectives of the Event

1. To understand the manufacturing plant of an Automobile Industry.
2. To understand the culture of Maruti Suzuki.
3. To understand the technology and techniques used for making cars.
4. To understand the production and distribution strategy of an automobile company
5. To know the production process and production planning of Maruti Suzuki.
6. The company's current supply chain management system with latest technology being used.

c) Brief about the event:

We started our journey from the university campus at 9:45 am for Maruti Suzuki Plant located at Manesar and reached the plant at 10:30 pm. As we arrived, we received a warm welcome by Maruti Suzuki Manesar Team and were instructed to not take photos or touch anything to ensure our safety and their confidentiality. Mr. Dhanumjaya Cheggu, Executive Vice President, Safety, guided us throughout the visit.

Our visit began with a presentation by Ms. Richa Chitkaria, Plant Control Manager, Manesar, on Production and Planning at Maruti Suzuki. We were also served coffee and snacks during the presentation. The key points of their presentation were:

- Maruti Suzuki offers 18 models out of which 16 are made by them and two are made by Toyota Company for them.
- They roll out 2800 cars per day from Manesar Plant only, 1500 from the one at Gurgaon, and 2800 from the one at Gujrat.
- They operate three production plants at the Manesar Plant only, namely- Plant A, Plant B, and Plant C.
- Their Production process takes place in 5 stages.
- They follow somewhat of Japanese Culture like wearing same uniforms for everyone and no separated cabins.

After the presentation, we went to visit plant B which had 5 shops for 5 stages of production, 1.) Press Shop, 2.) Weld Shop, 3.) Paint Shop, 4.) Assemble Shop, and 5.) Inspection Stage. Before entering, we were asked to wear safety gear- Helmet and Goggles. We could not visit Paint Shop due to safety issues but we visited the rest and most of the process was capital intensive using automation and labour-free technologies. Upon returning from the site visit, we had a presentation about the company's production and market distribution and also how production is planned by Mr. Ravi Singh which involved. Some of the key points of the presentation were:-

- It takes 4 years for a technology to be fully able to be applied in production, it requires a lot of research and development.
- Maruti's Plant at Rewari is solely for research and development and production is not being carried out there.
- They do production under 3R's(Reduce, Reuse and Recycle) policy, which are prevention measures for environment protection.
- Storage Capacity at Manesar Plant is around 25000 cars.
- Jobs created are around 3 persons per car.
- Maruti Suzuki mainly have two showrooms- NEXA (for premium products) and ARENA (for affordable products).
- They plan schedule for an year in advance to ensure time supply even at seasonal rise in demand.

After this, we went for lunch at the cafeteria, offered by them maintaining all health and hygiene standards.

Upon returning after lunch, we saw a presentation on how digital technology impacts automobile industry and then the visit was concluded by them with gifts to students and faculty members.

It was overall a memorable event for all the students. It was informative to delve deeper into the manufacturing process and learn about production and designing in the automobile sector.

The students could learn some of the key features of the company as noted below:

The Maruti Suzuki Company's key historical turning points:

Invention and Early Growth: The Government of India established Maruti Udyog Limited in February 1981 as a joint venture with Suzuki Motor Corporation as a small partner. The Government of India partially departed the business in 2003 and then sold all of its remaining shares to Suzuki Motor Corporation in 2007. In 1982, Maruti opened its first production facility in Gurugram, Haryana, India.

Manufacturing facilities: Maruti Suzuki has two manufacturing facilities in Haryana (Gurugram and Manesar), and one manufacturing complex in Gujarat wholly owned by parent company Suzuki which supplies its entire production to Maruti Suzuki. All manufacturing facilities have a combined production capacity of 2,250,000 vehicles annually (1.5 million from Maruti Suzuki's two plants and 750,000 from Suzuki Motor Gujarat).

Joint venture-related issues: The relationship between the Government of India, under the United Front (India) coalition, and Suzuki Motor Corporation over the joint venture was a point of heated debate in the Indian media until Suzuki Motor Corporation gained the controlling stake. This highly profitable joint venture that had a near monopolistic trade in the Indian automobile market and the nature of the partnership built up till then was the underlying reason for most issues. The success of the joint venture led Suzuki to increase its equity from 26% to 40% in 1987, to 50% in 1992, and further to 56.21% as of 2013. In 1982, both the venture partners agreed to nominate their candidate for the post of managing director and every managing director would have a tenure of five years.

Students review for the Industrial Visit were as follows:

- “Good afternoon sir Tanushree this side! Sir I'd like to extend a lot of gratitude to you for insisting that we all attend this industry visit. It has been one of the most informative and amazing industry visits that I've had the grace to be a part of. All the dignitaries who addressed us were very hospitable and welcoming in nature and all our doubts were addressed with patience and enthusiasm. I'd like to thank you , Faraz sir , Jomit sir , Bushara ma'am, Sumair ma'am and the entire ASE faculty for going through so many pains to organize such an amazing and enriching industry visit for all of us. I feel very proud to be an Economics student and to be associated with ASE. I will always be giving my best to this department . Thankyou so much sir for all your efforts!!” – Tanushree
- “Good afternoon sir, I extend my sincere gratitude for organizing the insightful industrial visit. Your efforts in providing us with this valuable experience are truly appreciated. It has enhanced my understanding and practical knowledge at the Maruti Suzuki plant. Thank you for your guidance and support.” – Kary
- “Good evening sir, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Amity University Haryana for the invaluable opportunity to visit the Maruti Suzuki manufacturing company. The visit provided me with real-life insights into the intricate process of car manufacturing, from production to distribution. Witnessing firsthand the complexities of supply chain management and understanding the potential impact on the company if the supply is disrupted was an enlightening experience. I ext

It reflects the meticulous planning and thoughtful consideration put forth by the organizing team. This visit not only broadened my understanding of the automotive industry but also highlighted the importance of collaboration and dedication in achieving operational excellence. Once again, thank you to Amity University Haryana for facilitating this enriching visit, and to the Maruti Suzuki team for their hospitality and valuable contributions to our learning journey.” -Nagraj

- “My visit to Maruti Suzuki was an unforgettable experience filled with warmth and genuine hospitality. From the moment we stepped in, their welcoming gestures made us feel truly appreciated. The insightful presentation illuminated Maruti Suzuki's remarkable progress, emphasizing core principles like 'heijunka' and their commitment to a discrimination-free workplace. Learning about their open office culture and the empowerment of independent decision-making was truly inspiring. Touring the plant, with careful precautions, allowed us to witness firsthand the meticulous processes explained by our gracious host. The emphasis on digital technology's role in shaping the automotive industry according to consumer preferences left a lasting impression. As an economics student, this journey was enriching and profound, offering invaluable insights into real-world practices.” -Divyakshi
- “Good morning sir, Disha Taneja, Ba economics honours| 2nd semester| A50018223013 Maruti Suzuki visit was the great learning industrial visit, we learned new things such as ~ Maruti Suzuki have 2 mainly showrooms- ARENA and NEXA, NEXA sales premium products whereas arena sales cheaper and affordable products. ~ there are 5 stage followed while making a maruti Suzuki vehicle, :- press shop(1st stage), weld shop(2nd stage), paint shop(3rd stage), assemble shop(4th stage), inspection stage. ~ maruti Suzuki produces 18 models but 16 models are manufactured them rest 2 products or models Toyota company made for them :- Maruti Suzuki grand vitara and maruti Suzuki Baleno.

Learning from economics perspective~

1) It is very important to balance the supply and demand of the product to run a firm successfully.

2) According to demand, they have to manage their supply.

3) It is very difficult to balance the supply with the demand as many obstacles comes between - container storage, transport, and many more.

After COVID maruti Suzuki faced fall of the supply of their product in domestic area(India) so they decided to increase the exports to those company who have somehow overcome the COVID and have better economic condition than in COVID because there people were willing to spend their money on luxury items(cars) whereas in India people were not willing and able to spend their money on such goods, luxury items.

4) In India EV cars are not much successful in India because it is made of battery and battery is made up of lithium. Lithium is imported from China to India. China and India shared unfavorable relationship.”-Disha Taneja

- “The experience was both enlightening and informative. The guided tour provided valuable insights into every stage of the automobile production process, from assembly line operations to quality control measures. The explanations provided by your knowledgeable staff were clear and engaging, making it easy to understand the complexities of car manufacturing. The best part for me was the interactive elements of the tour, such as the opportunity to observe the assembly line in action and interact with your team members, made the visit both enjoyable and educational. Also, Maruti was a wonderful host providing us with snacks and lunch with such amazing hospitality was an add on to the entire visit.”

The visit was concluded with a vote of thanks by Prof. A. M. Jose

The industry visit team returned back at the campus at 4:10 PM

Brief Overview:

Advocate P S Bisht delivered an engaging guest lecture on 'Exploring Recent Legal Reforms in Criminal Laws' at Moot Court Room. The lecture aimed to critically analyse the criminal laws in India, focusing on key reforms and their impact on the justice system. The guest lecture provided a comprehensive overview of recent legal reforms in criminal laws, highlighting key shifts in approach and philosophy. The Session encouraged critical thinking, reflection, and ongoing dialogue on the evolving landscape of justice administration in India.

It was attended by 155 students and 15 faculty members.

CONDUCT OF THE SESSION

Welcome Address:

The Session began with a Welcome Address delivered by Mr. Mayank Vaishnav, student, BALLB IV Semester, who introduced the Guest to the students and thanked him for accepting the invitation to address the gathering.

Address by Speaker:

Advocate P S Bisht highlighted the colonial origins of Indian Penal Code (IPC), Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC), and Indian Evidence Act (IEA). He emphasized that these legislations were formulated during the British colonial era to exert control over India's criminal justice system.

The Speaker cautioned against premature conclusions regarding the efficacy of recent criminal laws. He emphasized the need for comprehensive evaluation over time to assess their strengths, weaknesses, and impact on justice administration.

Advocate Bisht noted a significant milestone in criminal law reforms, where terrorism was formally defined and made a distinct offense. This development marked a crucial step in addressing modern security challenges.

He also discussed a notable shift in focus from reactive to proactive measures in the new legislations. While the Criminal Procedure Code initially lacked emphasis on crime prevention, recent reforms prioritize preventive strategies alongside punitive measures. Mr. Bisht highlighted the introduction of ‘Community Service’ as a form of punishment under new legal frameworks. He elaborated on how this approach aims to promote social responsibility and rehabilitation while addressing the retributive aspects of traditional sentencing. Drawing a contrast between old and new laws, he discussed the evolution from retributive justice to restorative justice principles. He emphasized the importance of repairing harm, addressing root causes, and fostering reconciliation in modern criminal justice systems.

The lecture concluded with an interactive session where attendees had the opportunity to pose questions, share insights, and engage in discussions with Advocate P S Bisht. The Q&A session facilitated a deeper understanding of the nuances and implications of recent legal reforms in criminal laws.

Vote of Thanks:

We extend our gratitude to Advocate P S Bisht for his informative and thought-provoking lecture, which contributed significantly to our understanding of recent legal developments in criminal laws. The

Directorate of Outcome (DOO)

1. Sensitization on Placement: The event aimed to sensitize students to the nuances of placement process. Recognizing that placements are a crucial phase in a student's academic journey, the event sought to alleviate anxieties and equip students with the requisite knowledge and skills to navigate this phase successfully.

2. Resume Formation: Crafting a compelling Resume is an essential step in securing job opportunities, the objective being to focus on helping students create well-structured Resumes that effectively showcase their achievements, skills, and potential.

3. Interview Presentation: The heart of any Placement Process lies in the Interview phase. The aim of the event, "You Are Hired" was to emphasize on the significance of effective Interview preparation and presentation. Through mock Interview sessions and role-playing exercises, students gained hands-on experience in tackling challenging Interview questions, refining their communication skills, and projecting confidence.

3.3 Brief about the address/talk of speakers

Mr. Ankur Gupta, Deputy Director Amity Corporate Resource Centre along with Professor (Dr.) Ranjana Kothari, Amity Business School and Maj. Gen. P.K. Sharma (Retd.), Dean and Director Amity Law School, were the esteemed experts who composed the Interview Panel. Their vast experience and expertise added significant value to the event.

3.4 'Take Homes' for the Guest and Attendees

The event garnered an overwhelming response, with over 120 CVs submitted, reflecting students' eagerness to elevate their career prospects. Through meticulous evaluation, the panel identified the top 10 CVs, earning these students an exclusive Interview opportunity.

The Interview Session, skillfully conducted by the panel, was a transformative experience for the students. Through insightful questioning and constructive feedback, the experts provided students with invaluable insights into real-life Interview scenarios.

As the event reached its culmination (Interview Session), the most exceptional candidates emerged as Winners, namely Yashika Manchanda, Mayank Vaishnav and Riya Singh. These individuals displayed exceptional qualities that made them stand out as prime contenders for future opportunities.

Overview:

In business, contracts are extremely important and often play a central role in its success. When it comes to contract design, there are a lot of things to consider, such as making sure contracts serve everyone's best interests and figuring out how to help prevent future contractual litigation. Whether it is a contract for builders, construction management contracts, a real estate contracts, or any other contract, its essential for them to draft effective commercial contracts.

In order to highlight and elaborate more on the importance of contract drafting and to provide valuable insights on how to improve the contract drafting skills of law students, Amity Law School, Amity University Haryana had organised a Hybrid guest lecture titled "CONTRACT DRAFTING: BEST PRACTICES" on Friday 15th March 2024. There were 69 attendees physically present in the Moot Court and about 87 attendees joined through Microsoft Teams. Ms. Noor Chabra, a student of BALLB[H] 4th semester, welcomed the guest lecturer, Dr. Astha Mehta, Head of Department, School of Law, Sushant University, Gurugram.

The lecture commenced with Dr. Astha talking about how drafting a contract is a very personal and human thing to do and hence Artificial Intelligence like ChatGPT will not be able to replace a real human drafting a contract as AI will not give the human touch to it. Dr. Astha continued by talking about the importance of legal research for the drafting of contracts and further highlighted the importance of the use of appropriate legal terminology while drafting the contracts.

Further, Dr. Astha elaborated on having a better understating of commercial laws and how it helps to draft a better contract that results in minimal chances of arising of disputes. Dr. Astha, through her presentation, explained all the important clauses of a contract to bear in mind while drafting the contract so as to avoid any possible contractual litigations.

Dr. Astha, moving further, provided valuable insights about the necessary legal knowledge required to draft an effective contract. She also explained about the client demands and solving the problems through analysis of the contract. Later, she elaborated on the importance of interpreting the laws and having an eye for details. She also provided the students with templates and formats to draft an effective contract that avoids any major legal hurdles and obstacles.

Concluding the lecture, Dr. Astha opened the lecture for questions and clarifications from the students. Ms. Shayla Goel of BALLB[H] 4th semester asked a question about how artificial intelligent consulting can reshape legal processes. She answered by saying that optimal use of Artificial Intelligence can definitely yield productive results. However, solely relving on Artificial Intelligence is not advised as it still lacks the finesse that comes when a person drafts a c 4th semester. She asked about the in

ed by Ms. Khushi Datwani of BALLB[H] a contract. Dr. Astha replied by saying that dispute resolution in a contract can be done through various methods like compensation. However, it is ideal if the contract has minimal chances of arising of disputes.

Vote of thanks:

The vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Pranshul Pathak, Coordinator, Amity Law School, Amity University Haryana. He gave his thoughts and ideas on the same topic to all the attendees present physically and online. Finally, Dr. Pranshul appreciated the faculty coordinator Dr Vidushi Puri and the student coordinator for organising the lecture and the lecture was concluded.

3. Event Report along with glimpses of the event (Photographs)

Introduction:

Amity Law School, Amity University Haryana, organized a comprehensive legal awareness camp for police constables on April 27, 2024. The event aimed to acquaint the constables with the new laws slated for enforcement from July 2024, namely BNS, BNSS, and BSS. Dr. Pranshul Pathak facilitated the event, which witnessed active participation from twenty qualified students who acted as trainers.

Event Overview:

The program commenced with a formal introduction session, fostering a conducive environment for interaction between the students and police officials. This introductory phase, crucial for setting the tone of the event, paved the way for an engaging and informative training session.

The heart of the event lay in the training session, where the students imparted knowledge about the upcoming legislative changes. The discussion encompassed an overview of the new laws, highlighting significant amendments and additions. Notable points of discussion included the introduction of a definition for terrorism, the abolishment of sedition as a crime, and the introduction of a new section titled "Offences Against the State."

Following the discussion on the new laws, the event provided a platform for constables to offer feedback and suggest changes to the upcoming acts. This interactive session facilitated constructive dialogue and encouraged the exchange of ideas between the students and law enforcement personnel.

This legal awareness camp proved to be a fruitful endeavor, fostering mutual understanding and collaboration between the academic and law enforcement sectors. Through diligent planning and execution, the event succeeded in equipping police constables with the necessary knowledge to navigate the evolving legal landscape.
