Criterion 2.2.1

The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organises Special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners Amity Institute of Behavioural & Allied Science

At AIBAS, every subject teacher evaluates both slow and fast learners in the classroom using well-defined criteria. It analyzes student performance through various metrics such as response time, accuracy, retention rates, and task completion speed. For slow learners, AIBAS identifies areas where they struggle and recommends personalized learning strategies, including extra support or tailored exercises. For fast learners, the system highlights areas of strength and provides more advanced challenges to sustain their engagement.
