Local Authority Collaboration Regarding Planning and Development

Collaborating with local authorities on planning and development is crucial for ensuring that the institution's growth aligns with community needs. Working together to address planning issues can help secure affordable housing for both residents and the institution's staff and students. This collaboration can involve advocating for mixed-use developments that incorporate affordable housing or influencing policy changes to support housing availability. University also engages local communities in the decision-making process, ensuring transparency and responsiveness to their needs. By actively participating in regional planning initiatives, institutions ensure that their development projects are sustainable, community-oriented, and in harmony with local infrastructure.

National Service Scheme volunteers of Amity University Madhya Pradesh conducted detailed survey of the residents of the NSS adopted village Chakraipur in respect of the Name of Family Head; House: Own/Rented; Available source of water; House: PUKKA/Kachcha, No. of earning members; Financial Status; Caste; Religion; Bank account; Driving licence;, Ladli Lakshmi Yojana, Suknya Samraddhi Yojana; Blood.G; Education; samagra ID; Bank Acc.; Adhar Card; PAN card; Rashaan Card; Gas connection; Driving License and Specific health issues". The program was conducted by 55 volunteers of NSS AUMP. The program was organized with the objective of enhancing the knowledge of the volunteers about the living conditions and social structures prevailing in the socially backward localities of Chakraipur village.

The survey was inaugurated with the opening remarks of Program Officer, NSS, Dr. Rachana Kathal. Importance of awareness about living conditions in socially backward localities for a social volunteer to perform their social service duties was practically experienced by the NSS volunteers. The program positively met with the objective of inculcating the values of social concern, awareness, responsibility and connect with the felt needs of the society with the aim of preparing the NSS volunteers to be aware and ready for reaching out to them in the times of required help
