Training on the Ethical Values

Amity University Maharashtra provides training to the faculty, non-teaching, and students based on values such as diversity, honesty, respect, fairness.

Training for the Faculty

The regular sessions are organized in the form of the faculty development programs to train them for the ethical values. Dean Student Welfare in association with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell organizes the Faculty Development Programmes which covers the Gender Equality, rules, and laws for the Workplace Woman Harassment, understanding the needs of the students with special needs, and Community outreach activities.

Training for the Non-Teaching

The training session are also organized for the non-teaching staff to make them aware about the ethical values so that, while interacting with the students, faculty members, parents, and visitors the due care is taken. The training to make them aware about the social contribution in terms of the kindness, courteousness and generosity are given.

Training for the Students

Behavioural Science courses in the curriculum of undergraduate and post graduate programmes at the University provides the training to the students. There are total 6 courses in the UG programs, one credit in one semester conducts 15 lectures, practical and activities based on the ethical values required to be adopted by the students to make them ready to be the part of good society. It is regularly iterated to the students to understand the diversity of the students around them and learn from the context. The students of various courses come together in one class to learn minor track offered from the other schools that give the positive exposure to the students to learn diversity.

To make the students aware about the honesty, the strict rules are created to obtain their credits of each course through the correct ethical submissions. The end-semester examinations are conducted governing the rules and regulations to avoid the cheating cases. The submission of the project reports, write-ups, submission are done with prior plagiarism checking tools such as Turnitin, Urkund or some similar tools.

Student are trained to respect the other students, faculty members coming from the different financial, social, religion, community, and other states of the country. Students are also trained to respect other genders.

The student is also trained to treat all others with fairness with the larger and better goals of the organization.

Training of the Research Scholars

During the first semester of the PhD programme, the course on the Research methodology is having the special topic on ethical issues in the PhD Research.

About the University

Amity University Mumbai offers 360-degree career transformational set-up with its future-ready, sprawling campus, a world-class learning infrastructure spread over a kilometre long frontage on the Mumbai-Pune Expressway. Under its Seventeen Institutes AUM offers Graduate, Postgraduate & Doctoral Program in disciplines ranging from STEM to humanities, Law, Business, etc.

Amity University sets the benchmarks of the global education with a system that matches the best of practices, theories, resources, and standards all over the world. This includes

- A dynamic semester-based Program Structure created by integrating the traditional syllabus with the latest trends across disciplines to suit the current industry requirements.
- A multi-stage process of evaluation and appraisal involving a bi-annual review by the area specific Expert Committee, the Board of Studies, and the Academic Council. The objective is to continue to update our programs in order to incorporate the development in technology and the best practices of industry.

Scope of FDP

Faculty members are the paramount resources for any institution of higher education, as they impart knowledge and facilitate the students in developing domain specific skills. Continuous change in demand for skilled professionals has resulted in contemporary curriculum development, competition in the educational institutions, and limited resources for research. This in turn have urged faculty members to be creative, effective, and productive teachers and successful researchers. Thus, rapid changes and shifting paradigms in higher education call for the faculty to be equipped with relevant skills and knowledge facilitated through the Faculty Development Program (FDP).

On a global scale, numerous countries and universities have taken initiatives addressing this shifting paradigm and have achieved promising results. Likewise, in India the University grants Commission (UGC) has also rolled out initiatives in the form of capacity building development programmes in higher education institutes. This development program aims to motivate & equip the academicians with skills for self and professional advancement through faculty development programme training modules to build the capacity and enhance the skills required in Academics professionally.

Thrust Areas

1. Tech-novation in Teaching & Learning
